

European Girls' Olympiad in Informatics

Key Facts

What EGOI is about

- Initiation and realisation of the European Girls' Olympiad in Informatics 2021
- National goals: Promotion of young women in Computer Sciences, Public awareness concerning women in Computer Sciences
- International goals: Positioning Switzerland as a leader in the industry, education and innovation; Coordination with partner countries to host an EGOI every year in a different country starting in 2022

Overview

Where	ETH Zürich, Departement D-INFK
When	June 2021, duration of 7 days
Organiser	Swiss Olympiad in Informatics (SOI), Member of the Science Olympiads (SO)
Delegations	24 nations
Participants	212 persons
Overnight stays	1272
Meals	2544
Budget in CHF	270'000

Participants

96 Computer Science talents from all over Europe (14 - 19 year old young women)

48 Computer Scientists as deputies (team leaders and mentors)

68 Organisers and volunteers from Switzerland

Budget and Funding

Estimated cost: 270'000 CHF. Accommodation expenses of the delegations are covered by the host country. The expenses are mainly supported by fundraising contributions from foundations and companies, contributions from the organisers as well as work of many volunteers.

Reference Projects

International Biology Olympiad IBO 2013, Universität Bern

ibo2013.org

International Physics Olympiad IPHO 2016, Universität Zürich

ipho2016.org

European Girls' Mathematical Olympiad EGMO 2017, Uni & ETH Zürich

egmo2017.org